

Art World

Editors' Picks: 12 Things Not to Miss in New York's Art World This Week

Old Master works are cropping up in galleries all over the city, plus an homage to Wu-Tang Clan at The Kitchen.
artnet News, January 21, 2019

Rasmus Nilausen, i is for idiolect (2018). Courtesy of the artist and Team Gallery.

7. Rasmus Nilausen: Eye Dialect at Team Gallery Inc.

In the Danish-born, Barcelona-based artist Rasmus Nilausen's first show in the US, at New York's Team Gallery, he combines wit and playful imagery in new paintings that pay homage to philosophical texts and conceptual artists who came before him. His works broach the gulf between the visual representation of a number or symbol and the meaning we derive from its use, in the manner of Robert Morris's I Box (1962).

Location: Team Gallery Inc., 83 Grand Street

Price: Free

Time: Opening reception, 6 p.m.–8 p.m.; Tuesday–Saturday, 10 a.m.–6 p.m.

—Caroline Goldstein